Wilt Martin, Michael Rodgers and Gayle Hannah (from left) help load medical equipment and clothes into a relief container to be sent to Gorlavka, Ukraine, from a warehouse in Judsonia on Tuesday.

According to Ukraine Missions Director John Kachelman, this is the 16th container the group has sent to Ukraine.

"The focus of the load today was to send as much medical items for hospitals and clinics as possible," Kachelman said. "We loaded hospital beds and mattresses; bed linens; surgical instruments; procedure chairs; exam tables; exam and surgical gloves; orthopedic treatment supplies; and various furnishings for the hospitals."
